

ANCIENT EGYPT (1) - EXTRATERRESTRIALS AMONG HUMANS

Swaruu (9): After the flood of Tiamat, the civilization that gained strength was Egypt, even more than Sumeria which was mostly Reptilian based. Egypt was a holistic cosmopolitan, Federation starship base. This even within the newly imposed 3D. The Van Allen bands controlled the Reptilians because they are low frequency, these are genetically engineered, the Kingu, and mind control was also used to cement the changes.

Even damaged by the flood, the pyramids once again provided electric light to the subterranean facilities and the city above. The people there, of Lyrian origin, I am referring to the "natives"... they were being guided into an advanced holistic civilization. Who were guiding them? Multiple Federation races. And even with a very victim mentality, they were managing to get ahead under the guidance of the stellar people. Since the ET intervention was already in their memory, the Tiamat wars and all that, there was no need to apply the Prime Directive. It did not apply.

Egypt was a civilization that had heliocentrism as its core, within a Parthenon of gods that also focused everything on heliocentrism, but being an advanced society, the Sun was not considered as a god in the modern theological aspect imposed by the church, the all-powerful Jehovah concept. The Sun was worshipped for what it is, what gives life, what causes plants to grow and provide food. What gives warmth and security. And not only the Sun was worshiped, but everything was respected and honored, plants and animals, people, situations. Very much in connection with Mother Earth.

There were no slaves in Egypt, all that is a lie. Nor were there any feuds of wars with neighbors like with the Nubians to the south, as modern human historians say. Everything was development, peace, modernity, advanced society, equitable. Advanced healing even in 3D, all with a view to the Federation withdrawing the bands when they saw the negatives already arrested.

Gosia: What date was this more or less? From 12,500 but up to where?

Swaruu (9): I am talking from about ten or nine thousand years to about 1500 BC. Until Akhenaton. According to the official dates.

ANOTHER CHAT

Swaruu (9): So stellars come in and make favorable changes to a population and they are greatly appreciated. Since they have "powers", mostly technology, as soon as they leave and people no longer under the tutelage of those stellars, they start exaggerating attributes and pin things on them, as a snowball effect over time.

My point here is that what you have as gods in written history is something based on an actual stellar person, but have things hung on them that may, or may not, be attributes of that actual person. Sometimes they're not people, they're peoples.

Sometimes they are neither peoples nor persons, as in the case of Horus who is a ship. But they are represented as a person. Horus is said to be the son of Ishtar and Osiris. But it is modifying or distorting things, they refer to the ship that is the creation of Ishtar and Osiris. The truth is simpler.

Stellar people, quite “regular and ordinary”, from the stellar aspect or point of view, are exaggerated with attributes of worship, all of which are of human origin. Therefore, from there arises the idea to which I subscribe that humans cannot be guided from a stellar position because it ends in the same thing, Ishtar, Osiris... and so on and so forth. Because, objectively speaking, no one was either Ishtar or Osiris, as they are characters created by snowball effect. With few traces of the originals. Depending on how you look at it.

ANOTHER CHAT - Conversation with Dhor K´aal´el

Gosia: There were no Prime Directive rules back then in Egypt?

Dhor K´aal´el: They were different. The Prime Directive back then did not apply because Egypt was an interstellar port. Egypt cannot be understood without the interstellar component.

Now, on Earth, the civilization is way less advanced than back then. So, as it is not advanced enough, the Prime Directive comes into play. Egypt was interstellar so no Prime Directive. Earth present civilization, not-interstellar, so Prime Directive must be observed at all times!

Gosia: So it was interstellar before the 3D imposition?

Dhor K´aal´el: Yes. Even during the imposition, it still was interstellar. Egypt was the greatest and most advanced civilization to emerge after the 3D imposition.

Gosia: How was it interstellar if the belts were imposed already?

Dhor K´aal´el: It started before and lasted after as well.

Gosia: So when did it stop being interstellar and why?

Dhor K´aal´el: Because of the negative intervention. Reptilian. Cabal. Where it started exactly: With Akhenaton and Nefertiti.

Gosia: But the Reptiles were here already. That´s why the 3D was imposed, among other reasons.

Dhor K´aal´el: Yes, but they had no power, or not enough. That was the exact turning point where they started to gain power.

Gosia: They started gaining power even though they were closed down with 3D belts?

Dhor K´aal´el: The flood defeated them and they had no power. They had a lot of power before the flood. Then they lost it and only re-gained it at that exact Akhenaton-Nefertiti point in history.

Gosia: But why did Egypt stop being interstellar? I still don't understand that part.

Dhor Káal'el: The Reptilians were closed down, not the rest of the species.

Gosia: Right. So why did they decide not to be interstellar? The rest of the species?

Dhor Káal'el: Reptiles were gaining power, dissolving the place, transforming it into something undesirable to the rest of the races, preferring not to come close to Earth any longer. Changing the circumstances around Egypt.

ANOTHER CHAT

Swaruu (9): As I have said so many times before, we are no better than any one of the humans. But, like it or not, we do understand more things as it would be expected. So anything we do or say becomes relevant.

Now not so much so, but back in Egypt, our word was gospel. All I had to do was land in front of everyone and say the magical words "I am this and that and I have returned as I see my land is in jeopardy, and that minute I was queen again!" It was that easy. Unfair play! Now it is not so easy, but some of that remains! Things were much simpler back then. That power was too great!

Gosia: At that time, when you used to land, local people knew you were a Taygetan? Or they perceived you as some star goddess? Or they turned you all into gods at a later time?

Swaruu (9): Yes they did, Taygetans are for them also Nephilim's. All stellars are gods to the ancient people.

Gosia: But I mean, at that time they already perceived you as gods? Or just ETs, and they turned you into gods later? Because you said it was common for ETs to be walking among humans back then as ETs.

Swaruu (9): No, as gods. They saw them all as gods, even walking among them.

Gosia: Why did they perceive you as gods?

Swaruu (9): Because, in their eyes, we could do anything.

Gosia: And you didn't try to tell them: "No, we are not"?

Swaruu (9): They would not hear us. Not at that. And many stellars also abused their technological power.

Gosia: I see. Did you have starseeds at that time too? (apart from the fact everyone is?) Immersion programs?

Swaruu (9): Yes, always have been stellars around, but immersion programs were not really necessary as you could just go there, you were welcome!

Gosia: Wow... this is so fascinating. And how would you define your "mission" for the Earth at that time as comparing to now? What did you try to accomplish back then?

Also wake people up? Cabal wasn't present yet, right? It started with Nefertiti and Akhenaten later. So what was the goal back then?

Swaruu (9): To make people go into the right direction in order to be able to remove the Moon Matrix. To have them evolve. The people there were primitive as the result of the destruction of the Tiamat wars, pole shift and flood. And everything would have gone well, had it not been for Akhenaten and Nefertiti.
