Gosia: How are you, girl? Hugs!

Anéeka: Hello there. Doing like ok. And you? Hugs back!

Gosia: Oh! I am ok as well, thanks! Are you resting enough? What has been going on? I know that a lot!

Anéeka: I had a menace from the Federation. To shut up! And then I have no one to reply to! I have been looking for who to reply to, with no luck!

Gosia: They can't menace you, because you are backed up by Alcyone, right?

Anéeka: So Alenym and the Alcyone Council tells me. But I still want to fight back directly, me. But there is no one to reply to.

Gosia: No one to reply to? What do you mean? You mean no one is willing to listen to your appeal or something?

Anéeka: I mean no one is responsible for talking to me, no one knows anything!

Gosia: How did they threaten you exactly? What did they say?

Anéeka: Just one message, to stop revealing secrets because I had violated the Prime Directive. It had Federation codes and in muon.

Gosia: Prime Directive! Are they for real? Ok, and what would they do if you kept going?

Anéeka: They didn't say! Only as a menace. Like in or else... Nothing more.

Gosia: So, what do you think of doing now?

Anéeka: Send them to see their effin mother and jump in a cold lake while at it?

Gosia: Yes! But does that mean continue to reveal their secrets? I say your safety first. You must calculate well.

Anéeka: It was a threat, clear and shot. A warning! To stop giving you, Robert, or anyone else information. Angry because of my leak, giving data. No one to appeal, no one to talk to!

Gosia: So, will you stop?

Anéeka: Yes of course, that's why I haven't been online. I shouldn't even be talking to you. (I'm being sarcastic). I will send them to hell!

Gosia: Did they say not to reveal anything to us or just secrets?

Anéeka: Everything, and everything are secrets anyway!

Gosia: Any specific plan of action?

Anéeka: Giving away even more secrets! And sharing with everyone the fact that I got threatened!

Gosia: Ok, then, but it may hurt people, so wisely! But yes, it makes sense. You appeared in my live. Robert got demonetized the same night. It fits.

Anéeka: I'm going through a heavy realization. And it's not nice! It is horrible! And it may be too much to share with the people.

Gosia: Let's see. What is it?

Anéeka: Of course, Yazhí is involved in explaining this to me. Not like she doesn't know. But it is depressing from here. There is more Matrix here, just as it is there on Earth. More of the same control, just more expanded. People thinking that they are free, entire civilizations thinking they are sentient, when they are manipulated as well, as humans are. Some may live happily, others not so much or not so. So as with humans on Earth, some communities are happy, others not so!

Gosia: Wow. It fits completely with the video I just uploaded to my English channel where Yazhi talks about cages. Going from one smaller one, 3D Earth one, to other so-called 5D more expanded ones. And that it is not true liberation.

Anéeka: In our faces it was! Always. That's why the Federation denies us more liberties, it's controlling us all with laws and with regulations like the Prime Directive. Excuses they are. Like the ones they give you there. Yazhí knows! She is just being kind to us all. Guiding us to see. To find out for ourselves!

As long as you have a body, you are a slave of the system, for one or another purpose. The only one truly free is that little girl jumping around on the beach, under the Moon light, because she is outside time and space. But the rest of us are slaves to the same system, just another level above humans. Same game.

That's why the Federation acts like any stupid human bank, for example, when you have a problem there is no one to hear you out! And there are lies here too. All over the place! Things that they make you think and are not so. We are not liberating planets, we are policing them, very different! People there think the Federation "of light" is here to help them when they are their very captors. Just playing a game.

Gosia: Welcome onboard then. Onboard Matrix. And imagine now, on top of that realization, and heavy manipulations, lies and suffering, you would be told like humans are told: It's all you manifesting it. Be united, focus, and dissolve it all with your mind. Not saying it's not the way it is, but not easy huh?

And yes, I have been seeing this for a while now as well. And I do realize that ALL systems are cages. Just nicer ones. As long as there is an "I" living in a race society, there is a cage. Set of rules, etc.

Anéeka: That's why Yazhí doesn't fit anywhere and has to remove herself from all. To be free, to live under her own rules, ronin, rouge!

Gosia: Yes. And I totally understand her. To be honest, I never aligned myself with the idea that I am "just" a Taygetan either. That's another cage. Why limit myself? Just being YOU. Period. Let yourself be and evolve on your own terms.

Anéeka: That idea that you are of wherever... of Temmer, wherever. Rules, cages, you belong to this or that... flock, this or that... FARM! No wonder Swaruus are nothing.

Gosia: YES. Best way to be! Watch my last video. It talks precisely about that.

Anéeka: She gave herself a name, Yazhí, HER idea. Born nowhere. In hyperspace! I know it is by design, to never be of anywhere.

Gosia: Or as she says: being free and then freely choosing to participate in cages of others. But first knowing yourself to be free. Like me now, I will come to Taygeta, but I do realize it's another cage. Better one, much better one, and enjoyable, but still a cage. In a way, going through all this, both us and you as well, is a way to liberation. So, try to see it from that way. It helped you expand into something new.

Anéeka: You will end up complaining about the Taygeta cage sooner or later too! Why do you think Yazhí no longer is Taygetan? She knows!

Gosia: Yes, I might but I doubt it because I don't have a complaining personality. If I don't like something, I will just move somewhere else, haha!

Anéeka: I know, it's an example!

Gosia: It's all cages though, yes. That's why I travel so much and move around. Cause I don't feel I belong to one place only. The same with Taygeta. I WILL stay there for a while, probably a long while, but I know it's not my "home". My home is beyond still.

As we are all up there anyway. From my perspective, as long as I am aware of it, that I am living in a cage, it helps me! Cause I know it's transitory and that I can choose NOT to live there anymore if so I wish.

Anéeka: That's good! If you don't see yourself like from Source, you will get caught up in all the reincarnation mess again.

Gosia: Yes. I suppose. Loops and all that.

Anéeka: But for us here, I did think that we were free and humans were not free. "So, let's go fight for their freedom!" Join the cause, see the galaxy, they said! How does that differ from a drill Sergeant recruiting young people to go fight to liberate Vietnam, or Bosnia, or Iraq, or Afghanistan, or Syria...?

Gosia: Not sure.

Anéeka: I don't see any difference. I feel like private Anéeka, suddenly realizing that she is in Iraq and there is no one to liberate, as I am part of the invaders. As Taygetans are part of the Federation, they are part of the coalition, of the invading force. Earth belongs to humans. I'm not human. So, I have no business here telling them how they should live... how dare I? I am the invader!

Gosia: No. You are the one telling them the truth about how things are outside of this cage that has been manipulated for eons. YOU are the true liberator. They are not. You liberated me! And thousands of others.

Anéeka: Thank you!!!!

Gosia: And what would the world look like without any cage though? I think that as long as there is a physical world, society etc... there will always be a set of rules that govern it. The key is in finding one that respects one's freedom of being the most, is harmonious, peaceful, allows creativity etc. Without lies.

Anéeka: Like Yazhí jumping around in the beach in the Moon light! No one to answer to, with time and space manipulated by her at will, making her own rules.

Gosia: Yes! I am all for it!

Anéeka: NO ONE is talking about this! I know that! No one dares to question the Federation this way!

Gosia: With your permission and information, we surely will! And it has already started.

Anéeka: No wonder they want my head, and to silence you, as they did Robert. Only you have the Alcyone Council backing you. As they say, you are part of their flock, of their farm.

Gosia: Alcyone said that?

Anéeka: They clearly did. Sounds "nice". But it means that you and I belong to them, their cattle! Alcyone's! In the end, we serve their purposes and intentions!

Gosia: Well, I cannot comment much on that, as I don't have my memory of off Earth affairs, I can only comment on what I feel that guides me from etheric fields. And that, I do trust. In the end, we serve ourselves from above. Even if we don't see it all. We tell humans this down here. Same applies in your Matrix. I do trust my higher ME. Something positive is guiding us all. I know it.

Anéeka: Yes. And, on the other hand, we also need some kind of binding, and correcting order to live peacefully, while in a body. Not everyone can be like Yazhí! So, what I mean is that some degree of government may be necessary to coordinate and live in peace throughout the galaxy!

Gosia: Yes, correct. As long as we have bodies and societies, those rules are necessary in order for us to live harmoniously. Like the ones you have on the ship, then in a larger society. No escaping this. Unless someone wants to live totally off the grid. YES, I believe it IS necessary to some extent.

Anéeka: Ok. I understand that! But that does not remove the fact that we live in the same Matrix. Not like in the 3D Matrix, and outside you are free.

Gosia: Yes. Which is fine. Doesn't come as a shock to me.

Anéeka: I no longer see any 3D Matrix! All I see is lies and more lies. It is the same! It's just that the Federation is imposing another set of rules and what perception of reality should be for humans and another for stellar beings, but that's not so either as each stellar society has its own rules as humans do. So, what is the difference?! SAME Matrix! I say forget about that 3D or 5D crap! It's all mental, as Yazhí said!

Gosia: That's why long ago I said: I don't believe it's all just human manifestations, what's been going on, it's ALL of us!

Anéeka: Can't be only human, as we are all connected in the first place, and as you already published, the very concept of human eating lizards is a Lyrian creation, meaning off planet Earth, non-human, filtered down to humans, as it does as well to any other race!

Gosia: Yes, exactly. I think all this is positive in the end. Don't stress yourself too much. Just as humans are waking up to things, so are you. It's part of the greater awakening and expansion of soul. I don't mind realizing that 5D is just another cage. I already knew it. Just didn't know lies extended so much.

Anéeka: I feel like people on Earth must feel when they "wake up" as it is called there. So, I feel angry, lied on, duped into thinking lies as reality, manipulated and exploited, like feeling raped now! So yes, I am angry!

I also knew it was more Matrix; we have been talking about this for years now. But, as you said, we didn't know the extent of the lies and of the manipulation. So, I feel not free.

Gosia: Yes, that I didn't know either. And, like I said before: on top of this realization you are having, add to that being told: "You created it, so now you solve it". It's frustrating for humans.

Anéeka: I see the point and yes, they are creating everything... but what about the external manipulation by other races who in turn are also being manipulated?!

Gosia: YES. I don't deny either that a lot of it is mental, humans are not saints here and they are lazy and ignorant. But the level of external manipulations is extreme!

But well, I am not sure there exists a world totally free of some kind of Matrix. I guess I will go and see!

Anéeka: Perhaps you cannot be in a body and be free of a Matrix? I would believe that if Yazhí wouldn't exist!

Gosia: As she said in this video I published, the key is to first realize you are Source, you are free, and then from there, at your own will, go participate in the cages of others. Come and go as you please. This means, go through walls if you so wish. Not caring about "rules" of physical world. You are not bound by them.

Anéeka: Yes. Yes, she is free of agreements. I asked her, if she was free, why was she still in a woman's body? Shouldn't she have transcended that by now?

Gosia: I believe she chooses to. She likes herself in that body. Got attached to her own face.

Anéeka: She answered: Because in a woman's body I can reproduce at will, and because you need to relate to me somehow and as someone. And because I choose to be in a woman's body.

Gosia: Reproduce at will, ok. And yes, precisely, for us to relate to. To do what she does with us, she must do that, be in the body. For us.

Anéeka: Reproduce at will, no idea what she means!

Gosia: Well, parthogenesis, no? Give birth to herself. Or not?

Anéeka: Yes. I guess! But she also told me that she did not need to any longer as she was all simultaneously, so past present and future mean nothing.

Gosia: Yes, she said that no other Swaruus will follow. In that case, who cares about reproduction, no?

Anéeka: Yes, she said that. No more Swaruus.

Gosia: The question for her would still be why come in a humanoid body, Lyrian, and not Sassani, or... why didn't she come as a talking frog? Big one. I will ask her.

Anéeka: Because she could have a problem with my kitty?

Gosia: Oh... but that's why I said big. Like really big. Size of your kitty.

Anéeka: Like a Procyonian bull frog?

Gosia: I wouldn't know.

Anéeka: Those are like five kilos of frog!

Gosia: Hahahaha. No kidding. Almost size of my dog, 7kg.

Anéeka: No, seriously! They say they look like a rock in the dark, so still, and then it jumps with a big thud!

Gosia: Fun! But a bit creepy, I guess. Have you ever seen them live?

Anéeka: No. Never been to Procyon! Only on hologram. Some have warts and all, others are smooth. They have like likens and plants growing on their backs, used for camouflage.

Gosia: I would still take a "warted" frog than a 5kg cockroach.

Anéeka: No, never seen or heard of cockroaches that large, but I'm sure they do exist! Those frogs get into the mud, and they dry it holding the dirt with their warts, and then they go looking for plants with seeds and they rub against them! And they swim a lot but like keeping their backs more or less dry!

Gosia: Haha fun. Wouldn't want to be one though.

Anéeka: At night, a Procyonian swamp is a riot of sounds, very loud noises, especially because of all the frogs! Very noisy swamps!

Gosia: I will go there to explore. With some bodyguard, of course. I love those kinds of noises and swamps sounds. Nice to sleep to.

Anéeka: Lots of bugs there. Li'Lay'La and Khila grew up there! They tell lots of stories involving ugly bugs!

Gosia: Ok, no, that's not for me, too much then. Only some are acceptable.

Before I forget, Dale and I will have an online radio talk live on Sunday. To be honest, I don't even know what to say at this point, haha.

Anéeka: Cool, at what time? What about?

Gosia: I will confirm the time. The guy wants to talk about ascension and all.

Anéeka: Ascension? Not again! So simple it hurts!

Gosia: I know. Ok, Anéeka I will go now. Past my bedtime.

Anéeka: My dinner time as well. And I'm behind on sleep.

Gosia: Sleep! Hugs to all.

Anéeka: I had a kitty problem that didn't let me sleep. Too many kitties on my bed, leaving me no bed!

Gosia: Ha! I see. Have a good night. Rest. All will be ok. All is as it should be (as Yazhi says).

Anéeka: Thank you. Good night!

Gosia: Good night. Gosia out.

Anéeka: Anéeka out.
