

PCR TESTS AND MEANING OF STARSEEDS **NO VIDEO**

Questioner: Anéeka, do you believe that demonstrations are useful, that they are the best way to act? Because I have the feeling that no matter how much mobilization you can create in a day or two, then things stay the same.

Anéeka: I think they are of little or no use. The negatives already expected them and know how to handle them. What is useful is mass civil disobedience. Meaning that the vast majority of people simply will not follow the rules at all. If only one person in 20 wears a mask they won't be able to arrest everyone, for example. The problem is that they are divided and this is by design.

Questioner: Any steps we can take to come together, anything? That's exactly what we feel, the awakened ones, that we are isolated.

Anéeka: Unite yes. If I had the answer to your question, it would be all over the social media by now. But I do mean that mass civil disobedience is the key, but that requires organization and as many people as possible agreeing and that is the difficult part.

Questioner: Apart from Mexico and possibly Argentina, which countries do you think could also make vaccines mandatory?

Anéeka: I think all of them. It's just how NWO moves its pieces. According to the same necessary bureaucracy.

Questioner: Thank you Anéeka. And why do they want to do so many PCR tests? Apart from justifying the false pandemic, is it because of some genetic bank?

Anéeka: The PCR tests are the real cause of the pandemic. As the German doctors say there is no Covid pandemic. There is no such thing. The only pandemic there is, is PCR testing.

The Cabal doesn't do things only for one reason or rarely but more than one, more than one agenda. PCR testing is the excuse for the pandemic. The rest is propaganda, even the dead. But yes, they are building an extensive databank of all mankind.

What for? What we are all living through, you there and us here, is a total war at all levels. But it is mostly a war between non-human races. So what the NWO does is to look for specific genetic traits to detect the so-called starseeds.

Also to know who is who in terms of genetics since they know it transcends the body. They want to know who is incarnating as humans, being star agents so they know how to neutralize them. This is also seen in the obvious attack against children as it is known that very advanced beings are coming in as starseeds, especially since the year 2000, en masse. So that is why the epidemic of autism due to the vaccines that are there to neutralize the connection they have with the cosmic, with the higher realm. This as a measure to stop what the NWO sees as an attack or infiltration from the positive races, with a view to destabilize the Cabal.

As I keep telling you, it is an all-out war on many levels and humans in general do not have the faintest idea of what is going on around them. Because, as you know, humans are not a race, it is a bio suit for many races to work or coexist as one. That's why so much conflict. They are not one race. What they look like doesn't matter. Inside their souls are different.

The DNA contains codes that determine data that point to one or another race, or even more to one or another individual of a specific race. The codes are frequencies and with the frequencies you know everything. That is why the Cabal has taken so much interest in all genetic research. The whole Silicon Valley in California is genetics. Not so much computers, although it goes hand in hand. They know the starseeds are invading them, and vaccines are one of their answers. Goal: cut off the children's signal to keep the star being from entering the body.

Questioner: Wow, Anéeka. So when you say an individual of a race, you mean they can tell who you are or were in 5D?

Anéeka: Yes, exactly. We use a remote method that is a laser that reads people's aura and according to the energy and its layers, its frequencies, you can know who is who. The problem is that it is not as accurate as a genetic test. To the extent that due to mistakes we prefer to discard the use of this device. So, it is logical to see that PCR tests are used to detect and search for starseeds, especially the most dangerous ones.

Just imagine a Swaruu starseed, becoming another Joan of Arc with all the mess she would make, even more so if she brings an army of her own. In itself, of the like-minded communities on Earth, notice that the starseeds, however little awakened they are, have a clear tendency to seek out and cooperate with each other, whereas the average human will only obey the rules of the Cabal and be immersed in separation.

Questioner: When they know what individual you are, what do they know about your life? Does each person have data on file of who they are, or something like that? Can't they be a simple John Smith

Anéeka: That's right. What happens is that no starseed is a John Smith. From higher planes, or even here in the old ordinary 5D, the ones that come in as starseeds, are the elite with a lot of experience. That is to say, and I am not exaggerating, I mean it literally: the starseeds working there are elite corps, Special Forces. Anything but "nobodies" or they wouldn't be there. They know what they are doing. And from the Cabal's point of view they are a very serious threat to them. As Yazhi just laid out in a video very recently, just a few days ago.

Everybody has a mission there. But the missions are not as in some military command, although that happens as well. Sometimes they're just there living, and with that they make a big change. They don't have to be looking for what their mission is and feeling bad because maybe they're not doing it or accomplishing it. That was already worked out from the above. That's already taken care of. Small things out there on Earth, seemingly insignificant actions, will bring about very big changes and someone has to do it. A mission is done or accomplished just by following your lives, as you, as the starseeds want, in total freedom. Others come in directly as a command to do a particular thing and everything in between.

It is a phenomenally complicated, complex, multidimensional mess, what is happening on Earth. And neither we nor anyone else in these densities fully knows what is going on. We are all looking for answers depending on our point of attention and who we are, the density. It makes no difference whether you are on Earth dodging syringes or in orbit dodging plasma shots or energy weapons. We all play our part in this tremendous cosmic mess. And no one is exempt from great risk. But we keep going, because that's what we are, and we do it for those we love and for ourselves. Because if we don't, we lose our souls.
