Robert: So it's clear to me that, generally, we are here to have this 3D experience. There will be no ascensions and strange things like that because we are already "ascended". You just have to stay here and leave having done your personal "mind expansion" work.

Yazhi: Ok, it is worth saying something important. The Earth has and maintains its Collective Unconscious which is a creative-manifesting force of attention from the Source. That is, what the collective agrees on what is and is not real, possible and not possible, will create frequencies because the thinking amalgamates with that of others, because all are connected, and therefore all together reinforce manifesting a reality according to their beliefs. This creates a soup of frequencies which is what affects or defines a place or level or existential density. These mental frequencies are a high frequency gravity flow, or concentration of attention from the Original Source in the form of high gravitational frequencies.

This means that just as on Earth, each planet or group of consciousnesses that create a collective, and the collective itself, can be seen as another thinking-creating entity. So the Earth has its Collective Unconscious, as does Mars, Venus, Jupiter, Cyndriel, Alfrata, Avyon, Temmer, Erra or Pitoya.

So as I have explained before, time, the temporal progression that is the animation of events and the speed with which they develop, is a by-product directly related and proportional to the Collective Unconscious that generates it. Which explains why there are differences in time slip between the planets, all of them. Because the consciousness and its perception is different in each of them, since time and consciousness are two sides of the same coin. The perception of time cannot be given without consciousness and being conscious depends on a temporal perception. Time is not a by-product of consciousness. It is consciousness itself. Therefore, modify and control your consciousness, and you modify and control your time.

You don't need time machines to travel through time, you don't need spaceships to go from place A (which everyone is running away from) to go to place B (which everyone wants to get to). You just need to control your consciousness.

Robert: Yes. And the Earth itself is projected the way it is... spherical. Because that's the way she wants and manifests it, in the same way that I manifest myself before others, or you.

Yazhi: Yes, but at the level of consciousness of the Earth, which is the sum of those living inside it and those outside, it is the result of another soup of Collective Unconscious among planets, suns and constellations, which in turn is part of another Collective Unconscious which is the galactic level, and in turn the cluster of galaxies will have its own Collective Unconscious and so on until it becomes the Source itself.

So whether the Earth is "round" (rather like a geode) does not depend so much on what the human Collective Unconscious imposes within, but mainly on the Collective Unconscious of galactic levels of which the Earth is a part.

Robert: So Alcyone has hers and the others have theirs. So each solar system will have its frequency? And each galaxy and so on?

Yazhi: Yes, exactly. Each place, each system will have its frequency that is related to and is also being altered and influenced by its surroundings. As each place has its specific frequency, this can be and is used for stellar navigation. Remembering that a frequency of a particular place is not something fixed, because it is consciousness, so it is a flow of consciousness that varies with the stimulus, thus giving a progression that is perceived as time.

Robert: Yes. I understand, that is why "time", the perception of it, is different, yes. But then the Earth affects this solar system with its "low frequency"?

Yazhi: In a way yes, but remembering that the Earth, as well as any other being with consciousness, does not have a fixed frequency. It varies with the stimulus.

Robert: Yes. But from what we see, the consciousness of the Earth is going down, and this Solar System, the Galaxy too, because of the Earth?

Yazhi: Seeing the stimulus of the regressive part of the Earth as a minimum, because it is a tiny part of the Galaxy, it can also be seen that as the external Collective Unconscious, in which the Earth is immersed, is of higher frequency than itself, it would force it to rise using the principle of the Dominant Frequency that tends to equalize all frequencies. And this explains, from another angle, the famous planetary ascension.

And those who do not develop a higher consciousness, will remain in a low one as I have explained before. The low frequencies equivalent to evil will tend to destroy themselves, because the main property of the regressive and malevolent is to be entropic and therefore self-destruct.

This explains why regressive beings and entities depend on beings with soul and consciousness to "feed" on their creative and manifesting force since they themselves cannot sustain themselves because they tend to self-destruct.

Robert: Planetary ascension is the product of this stellar gear, so to speak, not by means of "humanity" itself, generalizing. The problem is that the Earth will ascend with everything except humans because of their Collective Consciousness. I understand, yes. The lower consciousnesses are destroyed to reincarnate in another timeline according to them.

Yazhi: Earth has always been ascended. The problem is that humans do not see it through their Collective Unconscious. Because they see everything through that lens of negativity imposed by the Matrix. That is, they only see what they can see according to their level of frequency and perception which depends on their level of personal and collective consciousness. So the Earth is not the problem, it is humans and their ideas.

Robert: They only see "60%" as on Venus.

Yazhi: 60% at most, because I see that most perceive much less than that. For example, those who do not even know that Venus exists or do not care about Venus because it is not "profitable" in their daily lives.

This is because they live in frequencies lower than 3D or 2D and its variants, using previous numerological explanations that do not fully reflect the objective external reality. I stopped using densities with numbers as it is a very simplistic explanation.

Robert: Yes. That is why the Earth will continue its ascension except for humanity. I think the ancients were only referring to the ascension of the Earth and nature, not humanity.

Yazhi: It already is and always has been. The problem is humans and their perception, not the Earth.

It's just that humans, always thinking that they live in a world that is external to themselves, understand in their own way that the Earth (what they perceive as external to themselves) will ascend.

The Earth will not ascend, it already is. What will ascend (or not) is the humans or human collective that will then see as-if the Earth has ascended. Humans and all beings with consciousness do not live in a world, but are the world they "live" in. It is all in their minds.

Robert: It is understood. But Yazhi, one thing. The Human Unconscious is something that unfortunately is inserted into you as a child because you are not yet trained to discern at that time, your mental state is not developed. So that would be determinism? I think the child is not yet aware. For wanting to live, he adapts to all that and lets himself be taken. Until he is an adult and "wakes up".

Yazhi: The problem is that the baby-child does bring the Matrix with it from before birth, because it comes from their previous lives. So they are generating it, even from the outside. This lends itself to seeing everything with determinism. The problem here with determinism is that determinism only exists by decision of the very collective and individual to experience that determinism as the very definition of living in a material-corporeal world.

That is to say that this determinism, which is real, is a conscious manifestation intended to be experienced as such, and not an inherent quality of the Universe itself.

Robert: So there is no determinism. Everything is by prenatal agreements.

Yazhi: Yes.

Robert: It is true, I understand, those who are incarnated from the "lower astral" are the same ones who are in this wheel, that is why they are here and because of their frequency level compatible with this Collective Unconscious, yes.

Yazhi: The wheel of Samsara only exists as a manifestation of the expectations of the individual himself and his collective. Using or quoting Carl Jung: "All the problems of mankind, even natural disasters, wars, diseases and tragedies are not the result of external forces but are the result of its mental disorder".

Robert: You are right, yes. Apart from that you come to Earth to experience this world. That is why the Earth will continue as it is. With poor and rich.

Yazhi: As long as the collective desires it, yes. And the souls who enter do so because they are in accord with that experience. That is, because that is what they wish to experience.

And the souls that live there within that collective rejecting the idea of having desired to experience that, have either entered with other "stellar" ideas of service and "inspiration for others", or have evolved there changing internally to the degree that they are no longer compatible with living within that human collective.

Robert: Those are the ones that will go.

Yazhi: And they are the ones that will leave, yes.

Robert: But first they will live this.

Yazhi: Yes.

Robert: They only come to "wake up" others.

Yazhi: Yes, and to follow their own evolution (from their point of view).
