

THE ENGAN PEOPLE (ENGLISH)

Mari Swa: Hello again. Thank you for being here with me once more. I hope you are very well today. I am Mari. This information can be seen as science fiction or as the viewer sees best and I post it for entertainment purposes only. Still, I take my information very seriously, and for whoever has eyes to see.

As I have said before, and I will keep repeating it, as it is perhaps the most important message my group and I can ever give, is the hard fact that there are more people like humans out in space, being that humankind is by far not exclusive of planet Earth, did not evolve there, and was not created there either. There are more humans as such out in at least 400,000 different civilizations, all of which belong to the Lyrian or star human family. Although the term "human" is widely used referring only to the Lyrians who inhabit planet Earth, they are all members of the same genetic branch and family.

One of the most interesting star races from the Pleiades is the Engan people. They are active members of the Alcyone Council, which is the diplomatic organization that sees over the interests of all the star races who inhabit the M45 star cluster, also known as the Pleiades. And through the Alcyone Council, they are indirectly members of the Galactic Federation as well.

Through the agreements developed through the Alcyone Council, they are tasked with taking care of the Pleiadian M45 perimeter with their vast and capable military. Being that they are the most numerous race in the Pleiades, they are too and by far the ones with the strongest military force, with the Taygetans in second place.

They are a wise, old warrior race characterized by having a very strong ethical and spiritual frame. They are also considered as guides and examples to follow for any other race, especially those of Lyrian genetics. They are the perfect example of the culmination of strength and spiritual evolution of any Lyrian star human race.

And as an example, you can see them as the star human version of the Urmah people, as they share many common traits and characteristics with the feline civilization, traits that can be seen reflected even in their architecture and social structure, which is a step council holistic society. Being guided by a patriarchal royalty in power, they have a king, but he cannot do much without the approval of their high council, which works much like a senate in Roman times. This political system is also very similar to the one found in Taygeta, with its matriarchal holistic society and a queen in power, or the Urmah, large feline people who also have a patriarchal step council holistic society with a king in power, a white lion.

Many Urmah souls like to incarnate as an Engan, as Urmah starseeds, and many souls who have been Engan also like to incarnate as an Urmah, as evidenced by the memory of past lives of the members of both cultures, as well as with the aid of technological devices which measure the frequency and vibration of people and help to know where they have been as souls before their present incarnation. This goes for Taygetans as well, as their souls like to jump from Taygetan to Engan to Urmah and back to the first all the time during their incarnations.

The Engan people inhabit all three planets orbiting the Pleiadian star Electra, also known as 17 Tori, which is a gentle blue-white giant star in the constellation of Taurus, and it is located approximately some 400 light years away from Earth. It is the third brightest star in the Pleiades open star cluster M45, which is visible to the naked eye with an apparent magnitude of 3.7.

Much has been said in the scientific community on Earth that the Pleiades M45 star cluster is too young to harbour any life. Yet, as I have explained before, time is relative to the observer and does not hold the same value everywhere, as it depends on the consciousness that is manifesting it as a mere subproduct of the act of being aware of its own existence. M45 Pleiades is by far not too young, and it is boiling with all kinds of life.

The Engan people are one of the most influential Pleiadian races over the development of humankind, and they have worked together for Earth and humanity shoulder-to-shoulder with the Taygetan and with the Solatian people, also from the Pleiades M45 star cluster.

The Solatian people, also known as white Pleiadians, are from the star Pleione, and those are the ones who started the typical New Age androgynous fitness idea of how Pleiadians look like, that is, with perfect bodies, long hair, and beautiful appearances in both men and women, and who have white porcelain-like skin. They deserve a video of their own.

The Engan people have been influencing Earth's culture since the beginning of civilization, as the expression goes, and are responsible for implanting many ideas and concepts associated with human or humanoid-looking gods and goddesses, like those in the pantheon of Greek, Roman, and Scandinavian deities. The Engan were taken as gods and goddesses by cultures of old on Earth because of their high technology and their affinity to directly implant useful concepts onto humankind, concepts like metallurgy, agriculture, and philosophical ideas.

But even if they were taken as gods and goddesses by the people of old on Earth, as were the Taygetans and the Solatians as well, among countless other star races, the Engan were and are only more people, like the humans on Earth as well. This fact can be seen reflected in the very human drama and actions attributed to the Greek and Nordic gods and goddesses, which reflect their good and bad qualities, their love life and drama, as well as their very mundane needs and wants.

The drama and the consequences of the Engan are clearly reflected in the Nordic and Viking sagas, as well as in Scandinavian folklore, but perhaps with wider detail it is seen in the works of famous Greek thinkers and authors, being that the best example of this subject can be found in Hesiod's "Theogony", which was officially written around the year 700 B.C., and it is the first known Greek mythical cosmogony.

Although I am talking about Engan influence here in this video, I must point out that all this I am explaining goes for Taygetans as well, as they often mingled with the Engan back then as they do today, and with whom they cooperated to influence Earth's culture of old for better or worse. The data and the descriptions in all that literature and sagas can mostly be taken as facts and not only as folklore, because it can be astonishingly accurate, especially when describing the relationships and behaviour of the Engans and Taygetans, who were taken and considered as gods and goddesses in old Earth culture and how they mingled with the human population as well.

Although having said that, there is also a great mass of distorted data there, and there are also countless human misinterpretations all over the place, so a lot of caution and referencing must be taken when studying all that literature and sagas, as is to be expected. Adding to this, many Earth oligarchs have also distorted the data, added and subtracted information from those sagas to further their needs and to use it for population control, as they have always done, even if that may have occurred in times of old and not recently.

Many of the gods and goddesses in the pantheon of the Greeks, the Romans, and the Scandinavians refer to the same exact person, although this in itself is a subject for another video. A perfect example of this is the Greek god Zeus, who is also Jupiter for the Romans, who was Amun for the Egyptians, and who was also Odin for the Scandinavians. In their literature and sagas, they are all referring to the same exact person, and he was a mortal like any other human. He just had a lot of power and a lot of technology, including exotic weapons and advanced medical knowledge. In those literary works and sagas, you are only seeing the same man as he moved from one place to another, being that it was in Scandinavia where he was seen last on Earth, missing an eye, by the way.

The place or area on Earth where the Engan influenced the most, perhaps because it was the last place where they had direct contact, also mingling with the human population is Scandinavia, especially in the Viking era, from the year 793 to the year 1066, as officially stated on Earth. It is in the Viking and Scandinavian cultures where you can see the most direct Engan influence, especially regarding art, music, and architecture. The Engan influence can also be seen in western parts of Russia and all of Eastern Europe as well, among countless other places on Earth. To this day, they remain so similar that, for many, the Engan people are considered or called space Vikings.

The names of their three planets strongly reflect concepts found in the Scandinavian sagas and are interesting to notice. Ordered from the closest to the star Electra to the furthest, their planets are called Engan, which is their home planet, then Valhalla and Asgard. Noting that those names are from the Engan language itself. Valhalla, as in the name of the Great Hall in Asgard where the warriors who have fallen in battle are received in the afterlife. And Asgard, as in the celestial realm, the great city ruled by Odin as the saga goes. Loosely compared, Valhalla and Asgard may be considered a Nordic equivalent of heaven or paradise.

This sets you thinking, as many Vikings and Scandinavians in general are genetic descendants of both Taygetans and Engans, and many of their souls to this day are starseeds of both. When they die, when their incarnation on Earth is over, their souls will most likely return to Asgard, Valhalla, or Engan, to the heavens and their celestial realms in space in the Pleiades star cluster.

To make this connection even more interesting, all three planets orbiting the star Electra are considered as super-inhabitable. This means that the living conditions there are far better for Lyrians humans than the ones found on Earth. The gravity is softer, the climate is less extreme, and the biology is friendlier and more vast, and so are all other natural resources there, making all three planets orbiting Electra perfect examples of paradise planets.

The Engan people are one of the very best examples of how far Lyrian people, who are space humans, evolve in every way. The Engan race is very close to the Taygetan people, and for many in the Pleiades, they are considered as compliments, as their relationship with one another has always been very close and cooperative, as is with the Urmah people as well, especially through their Hydean Pleiadian Urmah, large feline people who inhabit the planets orbiting the star Merope, also in M45.

Right now, no official Engan starships are orbiting Earth, as agreed by the Alcyone Council, because right now that council, which represents the Pleiades, is being represented by the Taygetans in this area. Yet, this does not mean that unofficial or civilian Engan craft are not here orbiting Earth sometimes, as they come and go all the time, as they are members of the Galactic Federation and they like to check on their starseeds from time to time. The Engan presence around Earth right now is low, yet they have never stopped coming around here regularly.

This will be all for today. Thank you for watching my video and for liking, sharing, and subscribing for more, and I hope to see you here next time.

With much love.
