Gosia: Hello back, cadets! My name is Gosia, and today we will be continuing where we left off, and that is official disclosure and, specifically, one of the Cabal's many possible scenarios: some kind of false alien invasion or event.

Since I published the last video, we have actually had developments on the political scene in this matter, with former U.S. President Obama saying that the "aliens were real," and Donald Trump announcing he would direct the release of files on UFOs and ETs, something that got many people in the community excited. However, as I have explained previously, disclosures of all kinds have already been happening for many years, and, most importantly, whatever comes out of authorities must always be taken with extreme caution.

Yes, the mainstream may not be ready for the entire truth all at once, and that's why the disclosure "drips," as they say, but for me it's not about the slowness of the process but where exactly they want to take it. I wouldn't even have a problem with it being dragged out. I do understand that awakening to ET reality and disclosure is a process and not a single event, but it must be done with honesty, and that's where my trust ends. It is completely naive to think this has no agenda behind it and that the human population will receive the truth. It may receive parts of it—that's the trick here—but, if it comes from official outlets, "it will always be presented twisting and deforming it to the advantage of whoever is disclosing it" (Yazhi Swaruu).

One of those agendas, one that has been up the Cabal's sleeve for a very long time—decades—is the false alien invasion, or contact, and this is what I want to focus on today. Before I do, though, please note that this is only one of many possible scenarios playing out behind the scenes and for the world, and the tactics and timelines keep changing all the time. It's simply something to be aware of so there might be more chance to diffuse those plans and steer events in another direction, hopefully a more positive one. A lot depends on us, something I will go into toward the end. Without further ado, let's jump in.

Let's start from the basics. What does the term "false alien invasion" refer to? I will quote Wikipedia to kick this off: "A false alien invasion refers to the concept of faked extraterrestrial events, often portrayed as a psychological operation, designed to manipulate public perception or unify humanity under a single authority.” It is a staged event involving extraterrestrials or UFOs, or both, probably using the technology of Blue Beam, to facilitate the reconstruction of human society under a new totalitarian one-world government, or what is known as the New World Order.

Blue Beam, NWO—let’s break it down even more. Blue Beam, a well-known phrase in the UFO community, is associated with Serge Monast in the 1990s, a Canadian investigative journalist, to describe a plan to scheme up a global religious-political reset by simulating “divine” and “extraterrestrial” events with advanced holographic technology. In his 1994 text, "NASA’s Project Blue Beam", he described a supposed plan of a staged extraterrestrial invasion as one of several elements of a wider plan to restructure global religion and governance. Based on his sources, it would be implemented using advanced projection technologies to induce supernatural and religious phenomena, or sightings of massive UFO fleets in the sky, to artificially simulate an extraterrestrial attack.

The goal would be to primarily create fear in the population to justify the emergency resolutions applied then by the governments to unite everyone under the supposed threat, leading to the creation of one global authority and a new universal religion. It would be used as “a method of alarm and provocation of obedience in the world population to make sure that everyone cooperates for the imposition of the New World Order” (Athena Swaruu).

New World Order is a term used in different contexts, but in the one we are focusing on today, in short, it applies to the shadow government’s plan for centralized authoritarian global control: one rule, one government, one religion. Using manufactured events such as a false alien invasion to create threats would advance this agenda.

So how does it relate to the disclosures, or, better said, how may it relate to them? Like I said in the beginning, we cannot know if this is something the Cabal is currently preparing or not, but it most definitely could be in their plans viewing all the recent and not so recent events drawing public’s attention to the topics of aliens as if they were slowly adapting people’s perception towards something.

As our non-Earth human friends believe, and it was something they were constantly reaffirming throughout the years, all the government and media talk about this or that ET related topic has had in mind preparing the ground for some sort of staged alien event. Several years ago, Athena said:

"We from here know where they are going with their documents declassifications. We know they have in mind the use of, but we feel that not yet, the fake alien invasion soon. So the so-called "Pentagon" documents are really just a name because what will be given to the public will initially be from the Pentagon, then processed by the CIA, corrected and augmented, and then exposed to the public with the full intention of guiding the perception of the people towards what the controllers want according to their agendas like false invasion." (Athena Swaruu)

"What we believe is going on is a psychological operation controlled and prepared by governments and/or Cabal for two possible purposes, for one or both at the same time. The first one is to implement the first stages of the false extraterrestrial invasion they've been planning for decades, and to study the public's reaction to a government-approved recognition in any level of the existence of crafts not from Earth." (Mari)

Now, this part is important. If a false alien invasion or event ever happened, it would most likely happen in two different ways:

1. A fake military-style direct invasion, or
2. A "saving humanity" intervention on the part of a benevolent "Galactic Federation."

Let's first look at number 1: the simulated hostile takeover. This scenario, although possible, is less probable, although the way governments use the "matter of national security" card when it comes to dealing with UFOs suggests they might want to prep people's perception in that direction.

However, I think it is pretty obvious—especially to those with some awareness of the subject—that if ET races wanted to invade in the way we envision an aggressive takeover, it would have already been done. ETs have been in our space forever—more openly for about a century, or so it seems—and there is no one out there to "get us" in this way. Government officials who insist on national security are either ignorant of the situation, which is understandable, as most people are, or they are blatantly trying to seed fear. That would align with the Cabal's agenda of a false alien threat that would force humanity to unite against an external enemy, enabling them to move forward with the implementation of the New World Order.

Please pay attention to what I will say now, as it is something of which we are sure: there will be absolutely no alien invasion. The Earth has been under Federation control for thousands of years, as explained in the video about the Galactic Federation. There is no one to invade us; we have been under ET management all along—a blend of positive and negative—hidden from the eyes of the public. When it comes to the negative side, it could be said we have already been invaded, and millennia ago, mind-controlled in myriad ways from behind by the elites and the not-so-positive races cooperating with them, as that is their main method when it comes to controlling humanity. “No need to invade the humans, as they belong to the Galactic Federation and all its shady, darker levels we are well aware exist.” (Ari)

The regressive races do not need to appear in our skies to show dominance; they work from the shadows, as that is their preferred method. That is why any invasion scenario would be nothing but another “manipulative sham.” (Arishah) The ET invasion is not the threat—the illusion of it is. So fear not!

With that out of the way, as far as the second scenario of the false ET invasion goes, what we have here is not so much an invasion as a simulated encounter, possibly with the “benevolent” Galactic Federation, and this is the route we feel they might choose, if any. Simulated, because these would not be true ETs but another scam set up by the controllers to lure humanity into a New World Order corral, this time not through fear, but by uniting their hopes and feeding into people’s positive expectations of change.

“The ‘intelligence’ that we have here or the data indicates that they are paving the way for option 2, which is the benevolent alien invasion that will ‘save’ humanity from its problems, but at the cost of people’s freedoms, because the fake aliens will state and dictate conditions of aid that will go entirely hand in hand with the intentions of the New World Order.” (Aneeka of Temmer)

“They are preparing that fake alien invasion, but I doubt it will come as an invasion as in the movies, like in military takeover of Earth. It most likely will come as positive aliens with nice agendas that “strangely” comply and are in tune with Agenda 21-30. Imposing some sort of New Order and possibly religion that may not even look like a religion, but as a set of rules or belief system that the humans must comply to.” (Yazhi Swaruu)

Remember the implanted New Age ideas of the all-benevolent Federation of light and love? That is perhaps why so much effort has been made to protect its image as wholly positive—to create a unified, all-glorious vision of it in the minds of the people, in case they need to rely on that image to take advantage of it in their plan of a false ET encounter.

Now, the obvious question that pops to mind is: what about the real Galactic Federation and the real benevolent extraterrestrials? Wouldn’t they have something to say on the matter? Wouldn’t they intervene?

As we were told, apparently not. And they would not for different reasons. First, “they would not step in because the fake alien invasion would only be happening on Earth, in that realm, and would be seen as part of the ‘game’ and of the learning curve of humans. I’m sure of this. Very sure of this.” (Aneeka of Temmer)

Second—and this is where it gets complicated, perhaps too complicated, but I will throw it out there—it is fair to assume that such a false alien invasion or encounter would be executed by the Cabal but with the permissiveness of the real Federation itself. What the heck, right? Well, the rabbit’s hole at this point gets so complex that knowing exactly what layer of the deep Cabal is orchestrating what goes even beyond the grasp of some off-Earth people themselves. As one of them stated a few years ago:

"It is not clear whether the false alien invasion is being orchestrated only from Earth and by its low-level overlords, or if it is coming directly from the Galactic Federation itself, although we do suspect the latter. But such a false invasion may be the last resort for the Cabal to attempt a total takeover of all the cultures of the planet. Yet, we also know that they already control all of Earth politically from under the table, so it's easy to conclude that it would be only theater for the people." (Ari)

So, whatever side or level this plan would be coming from, it seems it might be of interest to be implemented by more than just one group. More than one faction might want to introduce, for example, a single universal government—even groups within the real Federation itself. As we were told, certain people in the Federation revealed they would begin to “intervene, cleaning the obstacles for the liberation of the Earth, so that humans had a new day.” The “new day” expression, by the way, is associated with another one, “New Dawn,” and that one with a New World Order. “Yes, they might be taking out trash. But that’s because they fight against whatever is not convenient for them.” (Aneeka of Temmer)

Let me share another direct quote, something they told us back in 2020: "The Federation sees the implementation of a single government, a single religion and a single currency as the only solution to problems and conflicts on Earth. To implement a holistic society, you must first change the mindset of human people. They must first control the human population, change their perception. That is why to impose order they want to install the New World Order. Because that comes from the factions within the Federation." (Alenym of Temmer)

What I am confused about—and I won’t lie—is: if that happened, if it was orchestrated by the Galactic Federation itself and involved ET groups, would it still be considered a false alien event? I guess not, but how would we know the difference, besides the obvious one that real positive ETs would never impose any new set of rules or beliefs against our will? However, the human race is highly manipulable and could fall for strategies of the fake ones, making us believe something is for our own good and having us agree to it. But again, how would we discern that it might not really be?

I'm sorry this is getting muddy and even frustrating, and I'm sorry not to have any specific answers to this exact question. I think no one can truly grasp the full landscape of it all. What I also try to do here, though, is to make you question—to inspire your own analysis. After all, that's a key part of it: for you to think. And it's more than OK to acknowledge that one is searching for answers.

One thing, however, is certain, and that is whether any of those false alien scenarios get implemented or not, a lot will still need to happen. It would be the Cabal's absolute last resort.

"We are quite sure that the Cabal will implement a long list of other agendas and procedures before such a false alien invasion. They must first set a stage for the humans to believe in such a false alien event, and that stage is the sum of all the other minor agendas that shape, modify, and ultimately guide humanity in their desired direction. What I mean is that the false alien invasion is their last resort, especially if their other plans have gone sideways. Many things must first come to pass before they come up with that nonsense." (Ari)

Something else I must mention here for the record—and it was said in 2019—is that there are no plans, or there were no plans, for real open contact with humans, as that would fall right into the planned agendas of a staged alien encounter. And that is also one of the reasons—one of many—why ET people cannot give any direct and open proof of who they are.

"If we were to openly reveal ourselves to the public with irrefutable proof of our existence, it would only give them an incentive to unite the world's population with the purpose of fighting us, as they would make people believe that we are an invasive and hostile race. This union for a common purpose would only give them the perfect excuse to implement their New World Order." (Swaruu of Erra)

And in 2023, this was said: "There are no plans for face-to-face contact in the near future so beware of this, as the Cabal may say otherwise as part of the plan to impose a false alien event." (Mari)

What plans might be in the making at this very moment, I am not sure, as I will be honest, we haven't had a chance to speak with them in a while, but I doubt their opinions have changed. I will also stress that this is the opinion of this specific group, and ideas and plans evolve as time moves on, and also differ among factions and races, and even depending on whether they form part of the Galactic Federation or not.

Moving back to official disclosures themselves, and leaving aside the scenarios of false alien invasions or events, as they may or may not play out, what we are certain of is that whatever is disclosed by the governments will not be the truth, or only fragments of it. A necessary step, perhaps, as many think, toward the greater awakening of the masses—I would somewhat agree—but that will also depend on what they are going to awaken them to.

"It will be manipulation and I am certain about this. Today, with your technological level, it is already possible to falsify images and videos credibly, and the governments and controllers have a lot of technology above the one that is given to the public, so images and videos that they may present as evidence most likely are also falsified, as they have falsified nearly every space image they have given to the public. Those are paintings and digital manipulations, not photographs. Nowadays, photographs and videos are not evidence, much less when they come from large organizations that have the means, money, resources and technology to falsify evidence to push an agenda." (Mari)

And to clarify this last point, not because the phenomenon in itself is fake, UFOs and ET reality, oh it's super real, just not necessarily how they will want to portray it.

Before I let you watch our community videos, and despite this or that Cabal agenda out there, I want to touch on something important—perhaps essential in all this—and that is us, the people, and our role in shaping future scenarios. For that, I want to briefly share an example from my own country, Poland, of how the communist government tried to manage the unrest back in the 1980s, as it shows how the controllers sometimes play out these situations and the importance of the people in steering events away from pre-planned agendas.

Before the communist regime surrendered to change in 1990, when the system finally fell, they too attempted to channel the opposition into predictable and controllable forms. The strategy they pursued was to even legalize certain opposition participation, trying to penetrate and shape who represented that "opposition" and what would be negotiable. It is what some authoritarian regimes do, especially when on the verge of collapse—manufacture, steer, or "manage" the opposition, many times controlling the process by infiltrating it from the inside.

To avoid an uncontrollable collapse—similar to what we see happening nowadays around the UFO subject, as more and more people are open to the topic and the truth is leaking out—they tried to secure conditions for themselves while still retaining some institutional control. They even considered a joint campaign with the opposition to address the ongoing crisis, but in a way that would still give them leverage. In other words, they tried to shape and negotiate some form of transition mechanism while still attempting to contain risk and preserve their own strategic dominance and interests.

Did they succeed? No, and it was because of the unexpected and unmanageable support for the opposition—people who were fed up with the system and pressed on every front. I won't go into the details of everything that happened there—you can read up on it if it interests you, I actually grew up during those times, and my whole family was directly involved, but basically, the communists' plans failed psychologically and politically, and what they tried to control went way beyond their pre-established boundaries. All due to the population's response and reactions. The system collapsed.

So why am I sharing this? To show that despite agendas—like false alien invasions and whatnot—despite attempted managed transition phases, despite the controllers' desire to maintain dominance over whatever unfolds, it is us, the people—our reactions, our level of awareness, what we demand, what we agree to and what we don't—that shapes and steers possible future outcomes. It is on us.

The disclosure, if that's what we truly want—not manipulated versions of it, but facts, no matter how ugly, the truth, must become a global process, not just institutionalized. It must become our inner default. It must come from embracing all different sources and avenues, and it must be something we embody internally and feel ready for. We must declare that we are done with deception, ready to receive what is uncovered when falsehood falls. We can steer this into positive timelines bravely, as fear is primarily what they always feed on, with our internal frequency engines set on truth and positive outcomes.

And now I am going to give it away to our community members to see what they have to say on the topic of official disclosures. Don't go anywhere, as after that I will reveal the topic of the next class.

COMMUNITY WORKSHOP (On Youtube only)

If you feel confused or confronted with many different perspectives on this subject, do not worry — you are not alone. I have looked at many responses on social media regarding the topic of disclosure, and I see as many ideas as straws of grass in a basket (just invented that example). To understand it all in its totality is beyond anyone's reach, because what we are looking at is a soup of agendas, tactics, and expectations, all in one overflowing bowl. It is a multilayered situation, and “what at one level looks a certain way, at a deeper level might add up completely differently. What is positive at one level may not be so at another.”

(Yazhi Swaruu)

Ultimately, as we were told years ago, it is a multilevel chess game, with lies and ideas changing at each level — the lower ones filled with “countless secret societies, all intertwined and both coordinating with each other to control the entire planet, but also fighting each other for power and control. And it is this power struggle between them all that is becoming evident today.”
(Aneeka of Temmer)

With that said, let’s leave the politics and the whole world of power struggles and control behind for a while. In the next class, let’s bring our focus to something that actually matters most — you. Remember the ending part of class 009 about the Federation, where I said that, despite them being controllers of Earth, it is actually us who steer the direction of our civilization? It is time to unravel what I meant by that statement and why it is important for you to realize that you are more powerful than you can imagine. This topic will have many layers, as all of them do, and it will be refreshing and so empowering to go into it — into the world of your inner magic.

See you all then, my friends. I can’t wait!
